

HOW DO I CREATE AN ACTIVITY IN LANGBLOG? RECORDING A VIDEO.

Langblog is a blog for recording and uploading video and audio contributions. This tutorial shows how to RECORD A VIDEO CONTRIBUTION. As LANGblog is a blog, new videos and audio recordings have to be tied to a post. These posts are called ACTIVITIES. Here are the instructions for creating an activity:

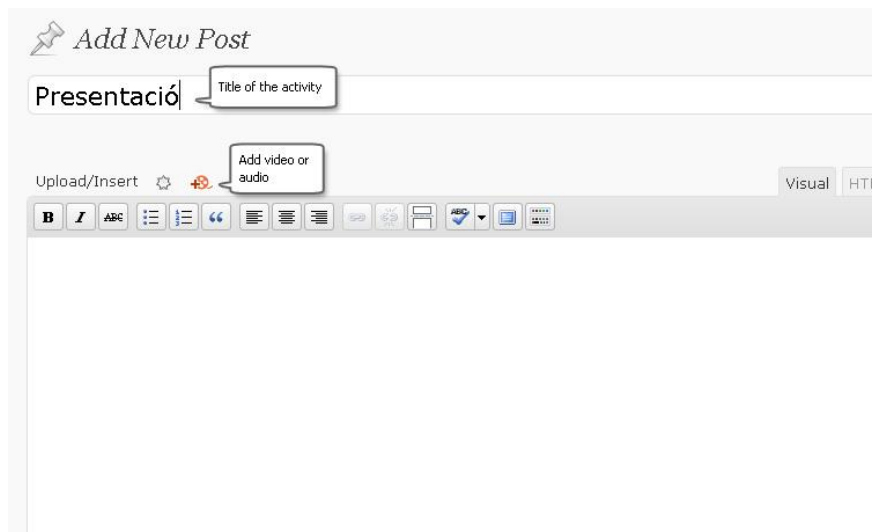

- 1.- Go into administration of LANGblog by clicking on "Administration".

2.- Inside Administration create a new activity by clicking on “Add new” in the “Posts” box on the left of the Administration box.

3.- To create the new activity, put a title. Now, you can include your video by clicking on the ico “Add Interactive Video”.

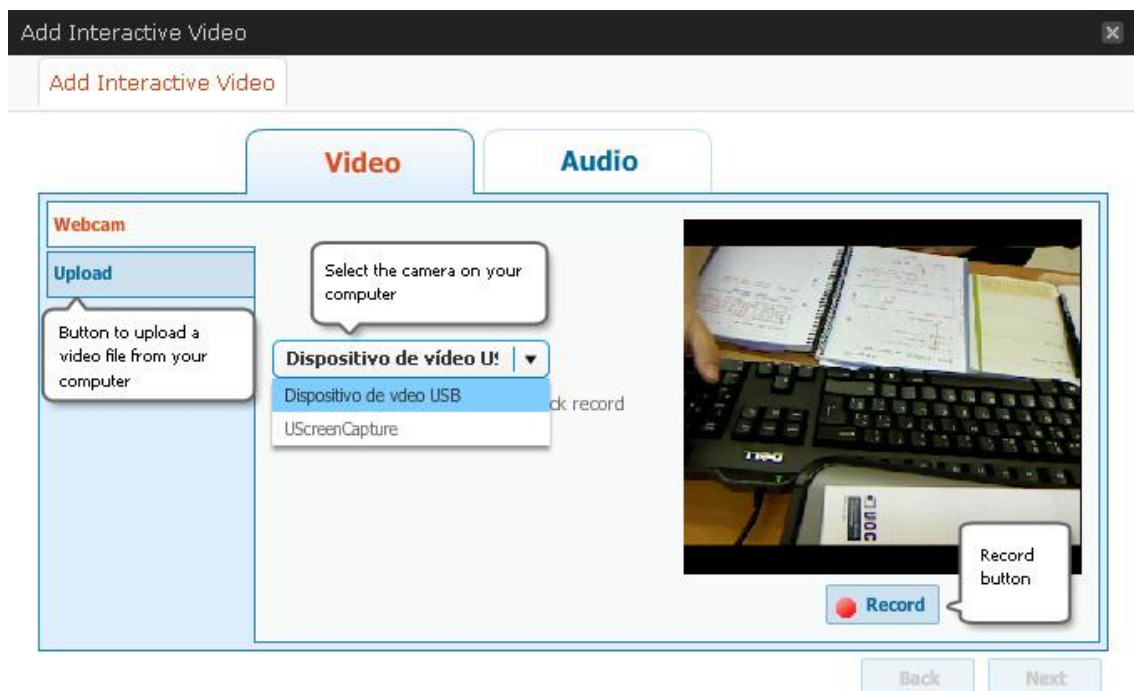

(Text de burbujas: "Title of the activity")

"Add video or audio")

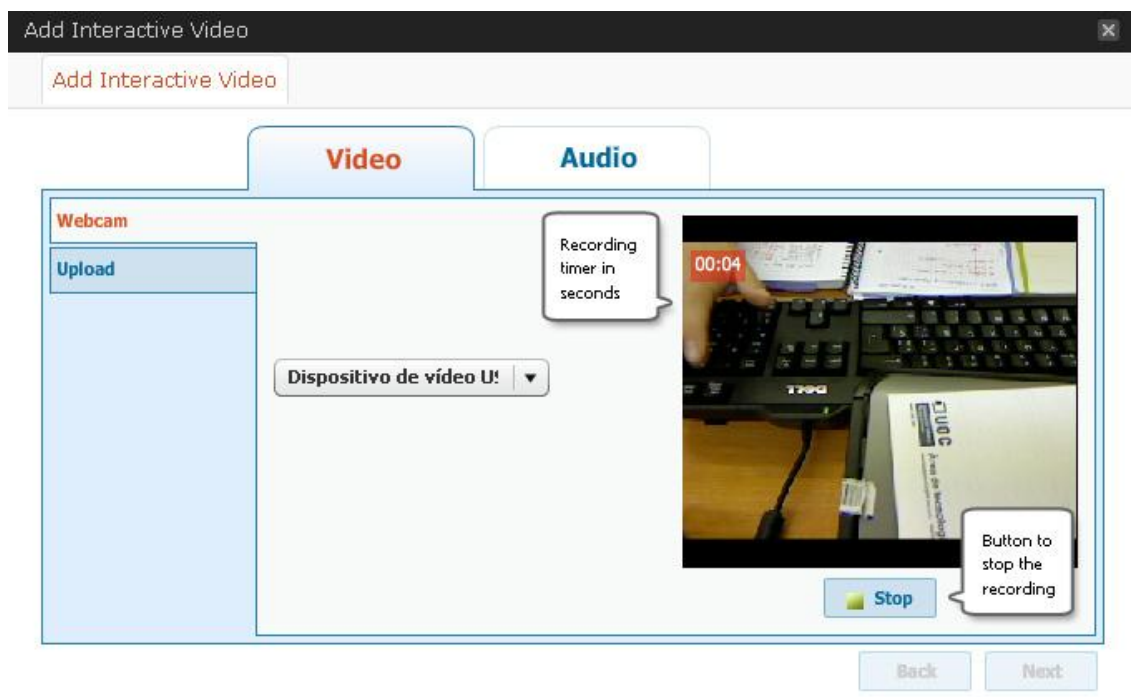

4.- A window will open asking for permission to use the camera and microphone you have on your computer. Click on "Allow".

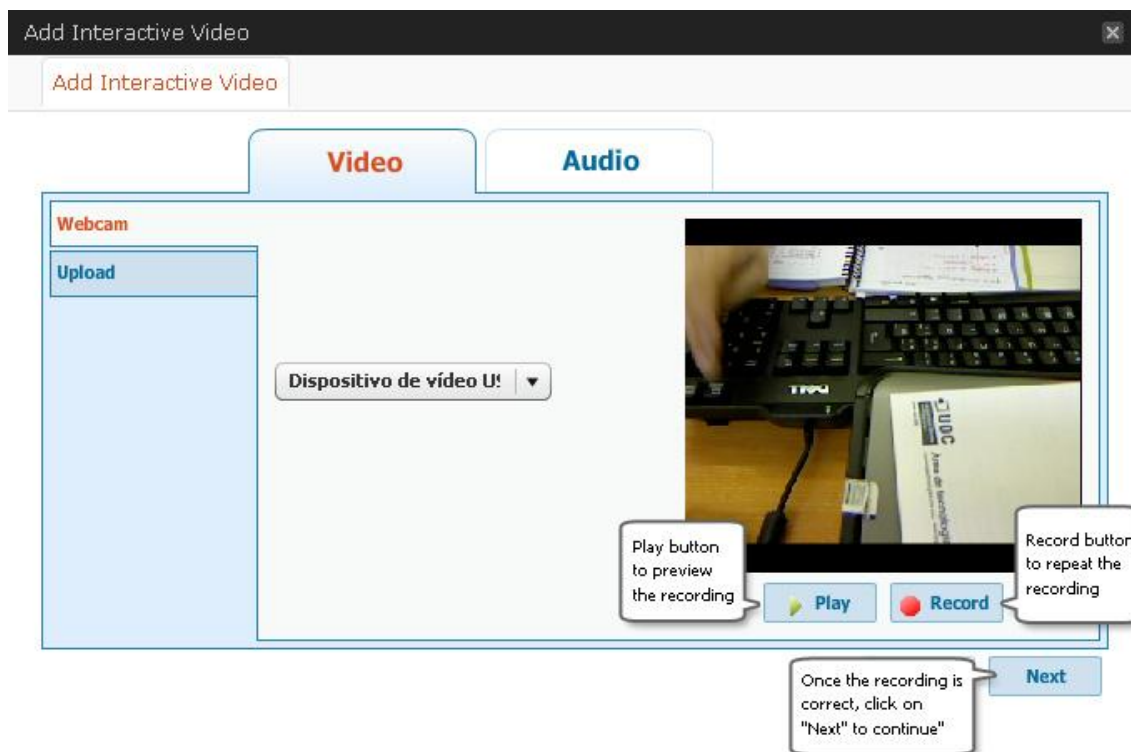

5.- Now you can go ahead and record your video activity by selecting your webcam and clicking on "Record".

You can see the recording time while you are making your recording and stop it when necessary by clicking on "Stop".

6.- When you stop recording and before you publish, you need to preview your recording by clicking on “Play”, so you can confirm what you've recorded is what you want to publish. You can record again by clicking on “Record”. Once you are happy with the recording, click on “Next” continue.

(Text de burbujas: "Play button to preview the recording")

"Record button to repeat the recording"

"Once the recording is correct, click on "Next" to continue")

7.- The next screen asks for a name for the recording. Put the title and click "Next" to continue.

(Text de burbujas: "Title")

8.- In this screen, click "OK" to accept the conditions.

9.- Once you have accepted the conditions, you can preview your video before publishing it. If everything is correct, click "Insert the post".

Now your video is in the post! There is one more step to take before publishing.

10.- You need to assign a category for the post. Do this by clicking on "Add a category" and select it from the list of categories that appears.
